

Event rules

 Language: Deutsch · English

Event rules

Overview of all event types that API-based Nuclos rules can react to.

KONZEPT

DEVELOPER

UPDATED: JUL 2026

APPLIES TO NUCLOS 4.2026.X

On this page

- What are events?
- All event types
- Related pages

What are events?

API-based rules are Java classes that extend existing Nuclos mechanisms with company-specific behaviour. Every rule is linked to an internal event – e.g. saving, deleting or a status change of a record. The type of this event determines the interface to implement.

Note

The API-based rules replace the old rule framework, which remains functional but is no longer developed further.

All event types

- Create
- Create \(final\)
- Update
- Update \(final\)
- Delete
- Delete \(final\)
- Status change
- Status change \(final\)
- Object generation
- Object generation \(final\)
- Print
- Print \(final\)
- Job
- User action
- Authentication
- Custom REST rule
- Datasource rule
- Communication

Related pages

Server-side rules

Basics.

Open

Server rule manager

Assign.

Open

